

Hear His Voice

Judges 4:4-6; Acts 9:3-6

The world grew hostile,
A testament to random values
Driving self-absorbed people to
Do as each person saw fit.

God whispered into Deborah's ear
The justice she dispensed to the people,
And salvation and peace
Were delivered to a troubled nation
From she who heard His voice.

The road was long, the horizon distant,
Yet did not deter Paul from his mission
To bring righteousness to Israel and
End the blasphemies of lawlessness.

Jesus gave him a new message and
A new nation to receive the truth;
Transformed from scribe to apostle
Was the man who heard His voice.

The only constants in today's world
Are change and evolution;
Generations come and go,
Seeking answers to their age's mysteries.

Timeless words spoken throughout time
Flow from the same source
For all who desire with open hearts
To listen and hear His voice.

© 2006 by Robert E. Blackwell